[REDACTED] advised that at a meeting of the Duval County States Rights Association, Jacksonville, Fla., on 1/21/63, a Mr. HOLLIS from Jackson, Mississippi was the speaker. Mr. HOLLIS identified as LOUIS W. HOLLIS, business manager of "The Citizen". Source stated in report "Mr. HOLLIS is a high officer in the "Citizens Councils of America" a member of the "John Birch Society" and other civic organizations. Mr. HOLLIS says he is not here to tell other people what to do or how to do it. But to outline what the "Council" is doing. He says the people in Africa of many years ago tramped around with no modern things, that the white man knows. Such as the farming machines that were made to make work easier, he says these Africians never look to the future, but live for the minute ahead. Thousands of years later the white man could build a bomb that could ruin a whole city. But the people of Africa are still practicing witchcraft, with no interest of the future. The negro's in this country, He says live for the minute, but there are about 20% of this nation's population that are Negro's, and there are some politicians that count on these people as voters. And in some cases these colored voters would be enough to count to win an election,"

"He says the colored people of this country have no education except what the white man has taught him. And now that these people are beginning to see that they can get what they want, they are not trying to live up to the standard of the white people, but drag the white people down to his level."

"He says there are about Six-Thousand "Council" members in Mississippi and more are coming in every day. He says the organization will soon be large enough to cast a bloe vote, and there are some people that are taking notice to this and have started to be concerned. He says the white people can prevent integration, but it must be done Lawfully and Legal!"

Serial 480: Newspaper clippin from THE CLARION LEDGER, Jackson, Miss., dated 3/9/63. Article contains a picture of Lt. Gov. PAUL B. JOHNSON, Jr. of Miss. with LOUIS W. HOLLIS, executive director of the Citizens' Council of America, welcomed to Florida. JOHNSON made a speech at Bradenton, Fla.

OCTOBER 9, 1965

On the evening of October 8, 1965, [REDACTED]

[REDACTED] were made aware of information furnished by [REDACTED]

On October 9, 1965, [REDACTED] Memorial Auditorium, Raleigh, North Carolina, was advised of the information furnished by [REDACTED]

On the evening of October 9, 1965, [REDACTED] Raleigh, North Carolina, Police Department, advised that the meeting held that afternoon at the Memorial Auditorium by the Citizens Council of North Carolina was held without incidents.

[REDACTED] advised that the meeting which was held that night at the Memorial Auditorium by the Citizens Council started approximately 8:00 P. M. and that there were about one thousand persons present. He stated that about thirty Negroes attempted to gain entrance to the auditorium but were refused admittance on the basis that it was a private meeting and thereafter about two hundred persons, including about six white persons picketed outside the Memorial Auditorium. Duke stated that the meeting ended shortly after 9:00 P. M. and there were no incidents of any kind and no arrests.

The October 10, 1965, edition of "The News and Observer", a daily Raleigh, North Carolina, newspaper, contained an article entitled "[REDACTED] BLAMES PLAN OF TURMOIL." This article stated in part as follows:

[REDACTED] of Selma, Alabama, said Saturday that racial troubles in his county were the result of a master plan for turmoil drawn in 1957.

[REDACTED] addressing about one thousand persons at a Citizens Council meeting at Memorial Auditorium, said he found a document that showed the 'exact pattern' of trouble in Selma and Dallas counties.

"... The Negroes were led by [REDACTED] and [REDACTED] all of Shaw University. They said the picketing was to let 'people know we don't appreciate' [REDACTED] comments.

b7C

"We're not protesting his right to speak,' said [REDACTED] 'we're protesting because he is advocating brutality.'

b7C

"The students carried placards stressing their desire for non-violence in North Carolina. One sign read [REDACTED] go back to Alabama.'

b7C

"Demonstrators marched quietly about fifteen feet apart. At time, lines extended across the front of the auditorium grounds and down the southwest side.

"... [REDACTED] spoke for about an hour defending his acts in Selma Civil Rights demonstrations earlier this year. He said the trouble was caused by 'outside agitators' who were nothing more than 'the scum of the earth.'

b7C

"Out of nine thousand people who marched from Selma to Montgomery, [REDACTED] said, 'we were only able to identify nine local Negroes.'

b7C

[REDACTED] also charged the federal government with aiding the Civil Rights demonstrations.

b7C

"We checked out the car that Martin Luther King came to Selma in and found it had been rented to the Justice Department,' he said.

RE: SCHEDULED MEETINGS

[REDACTED] also said many of the demonstrators were armed with 'ice picks and switchblade knives' and that widespread drinking and sexual misconduct occurred during the march to Montgomery. b7c

[REDACTED] was introduced by [REDACTED] said, 'It is because of men like [REDACTED] that our way of life hasn't been destroyed more than it has already.' b7c

'If we had a million more like him,' [REDACTED] said, 'this land of America would never die.'" b7c

The October 10, 1965, edition of the "News and Observer" further contained an article entitled "COUNCIL RECEIVES RESISTANCE PLAN" which stated in part as follows:

"Louis W. Hollis of Jackson, Mississippi, addressed about fifty persons from throughout the state at a workshop of the Citizens Council of North Carolina.

"The meeting, first of its kind in North Carolina, was held to provide instruction for county groups planning to organize local citizens councils.

"Hollis' plan which he termed the 'Mississippi Plan' included the organization of an auxiliary police force, a warning by whites to local Negroes not to become involved in demonstrations, the encouragement of Negro migrations, and the appointment of a committee to gather information of demonstration leaders.

"These protestors equipped with battered bull horns and microphones changed Jim Crow must Go - [redacted] must go and sang We Shall Overcome. A counter-picketing group of ten persons representing a right wing faction, marched outside carrying placards reading We Welcome [redacted] b7C [redacted] We Support Our Local Police. There was no altercation between these opposing factions and no violence.

Inside, the 745 school seat auditorium was opened at 7:30 p.m. and was filled beyond capacity in ten minutes after an announcement by some school or Board of Education official that the meeting must be considered an open public meeting or not be held.

"It appeared that the crowd inside was fairly well balanced as between those who favored and those who opposed [redacted]. [redacted] arrived late and began his talk shortly after 8:15 p.m., following brief introductions by [redacted] Miller, President of the SDCCC, and Louis W. Hollis, a national representative of the Citizens' Councils of America (CCOA). [redacted] talk was stopped at 8:35 p.m. when some individual attempted to interfere with the television camera-men photographing this affair and this individual was removed. [redacted] talk stopped again for 10 minutes at 9:40 p.m. due to intense booing. One individual forced his way in and was ejected. The area was heavily patrolled by uniformed and plain-clothes San Diego Police Officers both inside and outside where at least 200 or 300 picketers remained throughout the talk. b7C

Among those observed on the outside picketing were [REDACTED] with [REDACTED] walkie-talkie and microphone and [REDACTED] was observed on the inside. [REDACTED] was also on the outside. b7C

[REDACTED] called U. S. President Lyndon B. Johnson a Communist stooge. He criticized what he called the Civil Rights-Communist Movement. He was critical of law enforcement nationwide. He described the immorality of whites and blacks involved in the civil rights movement down south. He said in a rumbly manner that it was hard for white men to get white women in Alabama because the majority are "Nigger Lovers," even in your own home. In the theatres in the dark immoral acts take place between blacks and whites and the stinking niggers don't bathe. b7C
